UNITED STATES
SUPREME COURT
OPENS OCT. 14

FIFTY CASES ARE NOW BEFORE

THE COURT AND OPINIONS

WILL BE RENDERED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—At noon on October 14 the eyes of Wall street and the business world will turn towards Washington when the supreme court of the United States convenes.

In accordance with custom Mr.

Justice Pitney, the junior member of the court, will be the first to deliver an opinion on the opening day, which promises to be a busy one.

There are about 50 cases that have been before the court for advice-ment and decisions on many of these should be handed down on the opening day.

The stock market will be particularly interested in the Reading case decision, which may be handed down on the opening day. In this case the hard coal producing railroads of Pennsylvania, sometimes referred to as the "anthracite coal trust," are charged by the government with maintaining a monopoly of production, controlling something like 90 per cent of the total output of anthracite coal. The government seeks its dissolution on the ground that it is a monopoly in restraint of trade.

Another case, or set of cases, now under advisement, is the railroad rate controversy, involving the measure of authority that states may exercise in the control of railroad rates.

The court will for the first time pass on the validity of a two-cent passenger rate law. Since 1907 when two-cent rate laws became popular with state legislatures the railroads have complained that the rates were confiscatory and placed a burden on intrastate commerce which should be placed on interstate commerce.

Objections of a similar nature have been made to maximum freight rate laws which are now on the statute books of a number of states.

The Union Pacific merger with the Southern Pacific has also been attacked as a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and a decision is expected shortly after the court convenes.

James A. Patten, the Chicago speculator, will soon know whether he must stand trial on a criminal indictment obtained by the government, charging him with cornering the wheat market. The federal court at New York quashed the indictment and the government appealed to the highest tribunal.

There will also be a tinge of politics in the court's business up to November 1. The Kansas election case involving the validity of the presidential electors chosen to be named on the republican ballot is at stake.

The electors have been placed on the regular republican ticket, although it is understood that they are to cast their votes in the electoral college, not for President Taft, but for Colonel Roosevelt, the nominee of the national progressive party.

Taft adherents want them ousted, claiming they have no right to a place on the regular republican ticket. This case will probably be argued the opening day and decided the following week.
